

Black Box. 2012. Assemblage. 15 x 15 x 10 in.

One evening I began stacking three kiri boxes one atop the other and putting various wooden objects inside or on top of them. As it was very late at night, I began to clean up. That's when I thought of putting one box inside of the other, the result of which is this first assemblage of mine. I instantly loved its simplicity, pure abstract shape, balance, and volume.
